PETITION FOR A WRIT OF CERTIORARI TO THE
UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FIRST CIRCUIT

The petitioners, H. P. Hood & Sons, Inc. and Noble's Milk Company, pray that a writ of certiorari issue to bring before this Court the above cause which is now pending before the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit on appeal from the District Court for the District of Massachusetts and which has not been submitted to, heard or decided by that Court.

OPINIONS BELOW

The opinion of the District Court for the District of Massachusetts, dated February 23, 1939, granting a permanent injunction and ordering the payment of certain moneys is not yet reported but is printed R. Vol. I, pp. 116-131. The prior opinion of that court, dated November 19, 1937, granting a temporary injunction is reported at 21 F. Supp. 321 sub nomine United States et al v. Whiting Milk Company and is printed R. Vol. I, pp. 107-114. The opinion and order of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit, dated June 24, 1938, continuing both the temporary injunction and an order for supersedeas issued by the Senior Circuit Judge of that court are reported at 97 F. (2d) 677 and are printed R. Vol. I, pp. 114-116.

JURISDICTION

The decree of the District Court sought to be reviewed was entered March 9, 1939. The cause was docketed in the Circuit Court of Appeals March 21, 1939. The jurisdiction of this court is invoked under Section 240(a) of the Judicial Code as amended by the Act of February 13, 1925.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. Whether the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 unconstitutionally delegates legislative power to the Secretary of Agriculture.
2. Whether the market-wide equalization or pooling device authorized by the Act and established by Order No. 4 regulating the handling of milk in the Boston, Massachusetts, area is (a) a proper exercise of the power to regulate interstate commerce and (b) in accordance with the guarantees of the Fifth Amendment.

3. Whether Sections 8c (17) and 8e of the Act required, and the Secretary made, in connection with the issuance of the amended Order No. 4 using the post-war base period, a finding and proclamation of the unavailability of statistics for the pre-war base period established by Section 2(1).

4. Whether the Secretary's determination that amended Order No. 4 was approved by the requisite majority of producers was in accordance with law and in compliance with Sections 8c (9), (12) and (19) of the Act.

5. Whether the Act sanctions an order which permits associations qualified under the Capper-Volstead Act to be included as handlers in a market-wide equalization pool.

6. Whether the Market Administrator improperly included in the equalization pool milk of persons who were not producers within the meaning of Article I, Section 1, of the amended order.

STATUTE AND ORDER INVOLVED

The statute involved is the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246) which re-enacts and amends some of the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933 (48 Stat. 31) as amended by Act of August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 750). It is set out in the Appendix, infra, pp. 13-32.

The order involved is Order No. 4 as amended by the order of the Secretary of Agriculture dated July 28, 1937. A compilation of the order incorporating the amendments is printed R. Vol. II, pp. 59-75.

STATEMENT

On October 1, 1937 the plaintiffs-respondents filed their bill of complaint in the District Court for the District of Massachusetts to enjoin the petitioners from violating Order No. 4, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Massachusetts, marketing area. The bill alleged that the petitioners were engaged in handling milk in the current of interstate commerce or that directly burdened such commerce, that Order No. 4 and the amendments thereto were validly issued by the Secretary of Agriculture and in force, and that the petitioners were subject to the terms thereof. Preliminary and permanent injunctions were prayed for (R. Vol. I, pp. 2-13). On November 30, 1937 the District Court issued a temporary mandatory injunction which was superseded on December 8, 1937 by order of the Senior Circuit Judge of the First Circuit upon condition that the petitioners deposit in the registry of the District Court the amounts billed to them by the Market Administrator by reason of obligations imposed by amended Order No. 4. Upon appeal from the temporary injunction, the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit continued the supersedeas pending a final determination on the merits on appeal (97 F. (2d) 677). Under these orders $1,564,471.17 due to one group of producers or another, has been deposited in the registry of the District Court.

Petitioners' answers alleged the unconstitutionality of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act, the invalidity of Order No. 4 and the amendments thereto both in respect to their terms and the manner of their issuance, and that no sums were due from them under the amended order because it had been improperly administered (R. Vol. I, pp. 23-48). E. Frank Branon, a producer selling milk to H. P. Hood & Sons, Inc., filed a petition for leave to intervene as a party defendant and his petition was allowed by the court (R. Vol. I, p. 68).

The cause together with twenty-seven companion cases was referred to a Special Master to find the basic facts. On January 27, 1939 after more than sixty days of actual trial the Special Master's report was filed (R. Vol. I, p. 77; Vols. II and III). On February 23, 1939 the District Court rendered an opinion holding that the Act does not delegate legislative power to the Secretary of Agriculture, that the equalization or pooling device is constitutional, that the order and amendments were properly issued in respect to the determination of producer approval and in respect to the findings as to the base period, and that the administration of the amended order was proper so far as the definition of a producer was involved. Petitioners filed their written waiver of the issues not decided by the District Court, and on March 9, 1939 the final decree was entered enjoining the petitioners from violating Order No. 4 as amended on July 28, 1937 and ordering the clerk to pay the sums deposited in the registry to the Market Administrator for him to distribute in accordance with the decree. On the same day petitioners filed their notice of appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit and orders for supersedeas were entered. On March 21, 1939 the cause was docketed in that court.

REASONS FOR GRANTING THE WRIT

The public interest will be promoted by the prompt consideration by this Court of the questions in this controversy.

1. All the questions presented are important questions of federal law which have not been but should be decided by this Court. They concern the constitutionality of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 and the proper administrative procedure thereunder, bringing before the Court the basis of federal regulation of the entire dairying industry and an integral part of the agrarian program. Hence all the issues are vital to dairymen; some of them precisely and others broadly are equally important to producers and distributors of fruits, vegetables, tobacco and other agricultural commodities.

The Act is patterned upon the National Industrial Recovery Act; it delegates to the Secretary of Agriculture powers in respect to agriculture similar to the powers in respect to industry which that statute delegated to the President. They are equally unlimited. The Secretary is authorized to issue, among others, milk orders fixing prices, discouraging production, regulating trade practices and equalizing in one of several ways payments by handlers to producers. He may regulate one or all of these and less important matters to whatever extent, whenever and wherever he chooses. The single expressed guide is that any order issued shall "tend to effectuate the declared policy" of the Act—to return the farmer to his status of a quarter century ago by raising the purchasing power of his products to parity with their level during that period, whilst at the same time protecting the interest of the consumer by doing it no more rapidly than is "in the public interest and feasible in view of economic conditions". Here is a roving commission to aid agriculture—the goal has definiteness in theory only—coupled with an injunction to act wisely and consider conflicting interests. The injunction is not a definitive standard to which the exercise of the delegated power must conform, hence the decision below is probably wrong and is certainly not in harmony with Panama Refining Co. v. Ryan, 293 U. S. 388 and A. L. Schechter Corp. v. United States, 295 U. S. 495.

The second issue of constitutional law is fundamental. The critical regulation in the Boston milk order is a market-wide equalization pool. It recognizes the fact that the value of milk sold for use as a fluid is greater than the value of milk sold for manufacturing, and secures each producer an equal share in the market for fluid milk and forces each to sell an equal share in the market for manufactured milk. Each handler who sells more than the market average of fluid milk and who normally would pay more to producers supplying it to him, first must pay them what would have been its value put to the market average of use, and second must pay the remaining part of its actual value not to the producers who supplied it but to other producers whose milk had a smaller use value. Such exactions appear to be unconstitutional both under the commerce clause and under the Fifth Amendment, Railroad Retirement Board v. Alton R.R., 295 U. S. 330; Thompson v. Consolidated Gas Utilities Corp., 300 U. S. 55. The issue has importance even beyond the confines of dairying, for the principle of equalization is founded upon the theory that the gross income of an industry shall be evenly distributed by regulatory exactions from one group within it for the benefit of another.

The other questions presented concern chiefly the promulgation and terms of orders, hence they are common to all the orders which have been or will be issued under the Act. One, for example, is the question of what is a proper basis for an administrative determination that a proposed order is approved by the required majority of producers. Since administrative regulation under recent statutes depends upon such determinations, the manner in which they should be made is an important question of federal law which has not been and should now be decided by the Court. Another involves the interpretation of the statute and the question what constitutes a proper administrative "finding". Sections 8e and 8c(17) of the Act, as the District Judge held, require that when the Secretary of Agriculture abandons the primary base established by Section 2(1), and uses the post-war base period for the purposes of an order or amendments he shall in connection with their issuance first find and proclaim the unavailability of statistics for the pre-war period. The post-war base was used for the purposes of Order No. 4 and an express finding was made under Section 8e. It was not required to be made upon evidence introduced at a hearing and does not appear to have been made upon it. (R. Vol. II, pp. 6, 7.) When the Secretary radically amended the order he reaffirmed "the findings made upon the evidence introduced at the hearing" on the original order (R. Vol. II, p. 48). The District Court held that this recital was a sufficient present "finding and proclamation" of the unavailability of statistics. Plainly, if Sections 8c(17) and 8e require a "finding" in the normal sense, the decision conflicts with the principles applicable to other administrative bodies (United States v. Chicago, M. & St. P. Ry., 294 U. S. 499, 510; Atchison Ry. v. United States, 295 U. S. 193, 202, Mahler v. Eby, 264 U. S. 32, 44; Panama Refining Co. v. Ryan, 293 U. S. 388, 433-34).

2. The public interest requires a final determination of these issues promptly. Orders regulating the handling of milk have been issued in twenty-seven principal urban markets. Frequent litigation has been the result and it has already produced a contrariety of judicial opinion. The decision of the District Court in this case, for example, conflicts with the decision of the District Court for the Northern District of New York in United States et al v. Rock Royal Cooperative, Inc. et al, now pending on a direct appeal in this Court.

A present decision upon these fundamental issues would terminate most if not all of such litigation. Its postponement would continue and spread into additional areas the chaos resulting from dubiety already apparent in New England (see opinion of the District Court, R. Vol. I, pp. 116, 125-126). There is now impounded in the registry of the District Court in this case alone over one and one-half million dollars which will be distributed to farmers upon any ultimate decision. In similar cases in the same court there is impounded another million. Should the decree of the District Court be reversed and the bill dismissed, the impounded moneys would be paid by the petitioners to more than 3,500 producers (R. Vol. II, p. 216) under their contracts of sale (R. Vol. III, Exh. 20, 22, pp. 210-244). Should the decree be affirmed all the moneys in the court registry would be spread among 18,000 producers in accordance with the decree (R. Vol. II, p. 90). For a year and a half those amounts have been withheld from a none too affluent class and represent for each farmer the difference between a fair income and genuine hardship. Moreover, since dairying is a principal occupation in New England (R. Vol. II, pp. 90-92) and since Boston is the primary market (R. Vol. II, p. 87), the welfare of that section is inextricably entwined with the immediate release of those sums. The situation engendered by delay in this case is representative of the conditions in the other milksheds and markets where the issues are open and being litigated. Here, as in Carter v. Carter Coal Company, 298 U. S. 238, the writ should be granted in advance of consideration by the Circuit Courts of Appeals on account of the importance of the issues and the disadvantage of delay.

3. There is now pending in this Court the case of United States et al v. Rock Royal Cooperative, Inc., et al, on a direct appeal from a decree dismissing the government's bill to enforce a milk order similar to the one involved in the instant case. The grounds of that decision were first, that the order was never properly promulgated and second, that the Act as applied therein violates the Fifth Amendment. That case also raises questions of statutory interpretation and of delegation of legislative power similar but not identical to the questions raised by the instant case. The desirability of a contemporaneous consideration of two cases which raise related questions of national importance and one of which is already before the Court, is an added reason for granting the writ. United States v. Banker's Trust Co., 294 U. S. 240.

Such consideration would enable the Court to view all the facets of the fundamental issues in broad perspective. For example, whereas the Rock Royal case raises the question of the constitutionality of an equalization scheme in which cooperative associations are included as handlers and draw special bounties, the record in the instant case raises the question which should first be considered, whether the Act authorizes the inclusion of cooperatives in such a pool. Again, taken together they manifest the operation of the single scheme of equalization in different markets and with varying details. And, the issues in respect to the validity of the Secretary's determinations of producer approval are a single question of statutory construction which may best be decided with the various factual situations before the Court. In other respects the two cases are equally complementary.

This Court has emphasized the importance of a complete presentation of the economic facts involved in grave issues of constitutional law. Borden's Farm Products Co. v. Baldwin, 293 U. S. 194. The Master's report in the instant case is a compendium of the history, organization and problems of the dairying industry. It also indicates the practical meaning of the parity concept and the other standards established to guide the Secretary in the exercise of the powers delegated to him, the actual results of equalization during a seven months' period, and the factual aspects of the questions of statutory construction. Such facts were not emphasized in the Rock Royal case; they are not stated in the Court's findings of fact nor discussed in its opinion. Since the issues raised are of the utmost gravity, a record containing in appropriate form the economic background of the statutes and orders should be before the Court when it decides them.

WHEREFORE, it is respectfully submitted that this petition should be granted and the case set down for argument immediately following United States et al v. Rock Royal Cooperative, Inc.

Related legislation enacted prior to June 3, 1937, is given in the compilation known as "Annotated Compilation of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as Amended, and Acts Relating Thereto at the Close of the First Session of the Seventy-Fourth Congress, August 26, 1935"; Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

Throughout the text of this compilation, bold face type is used for the language of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937; light face type is used for the language of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, as reenacted by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937; italics are used for amendments made by section 2 of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 to the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended.

The provisions of section 2 of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 are not set out haec verba. They are, however, incorporated in the body of the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, which they amend. References to the amendatory provisions of section 2 of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 are contained in the annotations.

ANNOTATED COMPILATION OF AGRICULTURAL MARKETING AGREEMENT ACT OF 1937 REENACTING, AMENDING AND SUPPLEMENTING THE AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ACT, AS AMENDED¹

AN ACT

To reenact and amend provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, relating to marketing agreements and orders.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that the following provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, not having been intended for the control of the production of agricultural commodities, and having been intended to be effective irrespective of the validity of any other provision of that act are expressly affirmed and validated, and are reenacted without change except as provided in section 2:

(a) Section 1 (relating to the declaration of emergency);

DECLARATION

*It is hereby declared that the disruption of the orderly exchange of commodities in interstate commerce impairs the purchasing power of farmers and destroys the value of agricultural assets which support the national credit structure and that these conditions affect transactions in agricultural commodities with a national public interest, and burden and obstruct the normal channels of interstate commerce.*²

(b) Section 2 (relating to declaration of policy);

DECLARATION OF POLICY

Sec. 2. It is hereby declared to be the policy of Congress—

(1) Through the exercise of the powers conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture under this title, to establish and maintain such *orderly marketing conditions for agricultural commodities in interstate commerce as will establish*³ prices to farmers at a level that will give agricultural commodities a purchasing power with respect

C.

² As amended by sec. 2 (a) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937. The text of sec. 1 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, was as follows:

"DECLARATION OF EMERGENCY

"That the present acute economic emergency being in part the consequence of a severe and increasing disparity between the prices of agricultural and other commodities, which disparity has largely destroyed the purchasing power of farmers for industrial products, has broken down the orderly exchange of commodities, and has seriously impaired the agricultural assets supporting the national credit structure, it is hereby declared that these conditions in the basic industry of agriculture have affected transactions in agricultural commodities with a national public interest, have burdened and obstructed the normal currents of commerce in such commodities, and render imperative the immediate enactment of title 1 of this Act.

The italicized words were substituted, by sec. 2 (b) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, in lieu of the words: "balance between the production and consumption of agricultural commodities, and such marketing conditions therefor, as will reestablish".

to articles that farmers buy, equivalent to the purchasing power of agricultural commodities in the base period; and, in the case of all commodities for which the base period is the pre-war period, August 1909 to July 1914, will also reflect current interest payments per acre on farm indebtedness secured by real estate and tax payments per acre on farm real estate, as contrasted with such interest payments and tax payments during the base period. The base period in the case of all agricultural commodities except tobacco and potatoes shall be the pre-war period, August 1909-July 1914. In the case of tobacco, and potatoes, the base period shall be the postwar period, August 1919-July 1929.

(2) To protect the interest of the consumer by (a) approaching the level of prices which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish in subsection (1) of this section by gradual correction of the current level at as rapid a rate as the Secretary of Agriculture deems to be in the public interest and feasible in view of the current consumptive demand in domestic and foreign markets, and (b) authorizing no action under this title which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish in subsection (1) of this section.

(c) Section 8a (5), (6), (7), (8), and (9) relating to violations and enforcement;

SEC. 8a(5) Any person willfully exceeding any quota or allotment fixed for him under this title by the Secretary of Agriculture, and any other person knowingly participating, or aiding, in the exceeding of said quota or allotment, shall forfeit to the United States a sum equal to three times the current market value of such excess, which forfeiture shall be recoverable in a civil suit brought in the name of the United States.

(6) The several district courts of the United States are hereby vested with jurisdiction specifically to enforce, and to prevent and restrain any person from violating any order, regulation, or agreement, heretofore or hereafter made, or issued pursuant to this title, in any proceeding now pending or hereafter brought in said courts.

(7) Upon the request of the Secretary of Agriculture, it shall be the duty of the several district attorneys of the United States, in their respective districts, under the directions of the Attorney General, to institute proceedings to enforce the remedies and to collect the forfeitures provided for in, or pursuant to, this title. Whenever the Secretary, or such officer or employee of the Department of Agriculture as he may designate for the purpose, has reason to believe that any handler has violated, or is violating, the provisions of any order or amendment thereto issued pursuant to this title, the Secretary shall have power to institute an investigation and, after due notice to such handler, to conduct a hearing in order to determine the facts for the purpose of referring the matter to the Attorney General for appropriate action.

(8) The remedies provided for in this section shall be in addition to, and not exclusive of, any of the remedies or penalties provided for elsewhere in this title or now or hereafter existing at law or in equity.

* The following was deleted by section 2 (c) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937: "the provisions of this section, or of".

(9) The term "person" as used in this title includes an individual, partnership, corporation, association, and any other business unit.

(d) Section 8b (relating to marketing agreements);

SEC. 8b. In order to effectuate the declared policy of this title, the Secretary of Agriculture shall have the power, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, producers, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof, only with respect to such handling as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects, interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof. The making of any such agreement shall not be held to be in violation of any of the antitrust laws of the United States, and any such agreement shall be deemed to be lawful: Provided, That no such agreement shall remain in force after the termination of this Act. For the purpose of carrying out any such agreement the parties thereto shall be eligible for loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under section 5 of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act. Such loans shall not be in excess of such amounts as may be authorized by the agreements.

(e) Section 8c (relating to orders);

ORDERS

SEC. 8c. (1) The Secretary of Agriculture shall, subject to the provisions of this section, issue, and from time to time amend, orders applicable to processors, associations of producers, and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of this section. Such persons are referred to in this title as "handlers." Such orders shall regulate, in the manner hereinafter in this section provided, only such handling of such agricultural commodity, or product thereof, as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects, interstate or foreign commerce in such commodity or product thereof.

COMMODITIES TO WHICH APPLICABLE

(2) Orders issued pursuant to this section shall be applicable only to the following agricultural commodities and the products thereof (except products of naval stores), or to any regional, or market classification of any such commodity or product: Milk, fruits (including pecans and walnuts but not including apples and not including fruits, other than olives, for canning), tobacco, vegetables (not including vegetables, other than asparagus, for canning), soybeans and naval stores as included in the Naval Stores Act and standards established thereunder (including refined or partially refined oleoresin).

NOTICE AND HEARING

(3) Whenever the Secretary of Agriculture has reason to believe that the issuance of an order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of this title with respect to any commodity or product thereof specified in subsection (2) of this section, he shall give due notice of and an opportunity for a hearing upon a proposed order.

FINDING AND ISSUANCE OF ORDER

(4) After such notice and opportunity for hearing, the Secretary of Agriculture shall issue an order if he finds, and sets forth in such order, upon the evidence introduced at such hearing (in addition to such other findings as may be specifically required by this section) that the issuance of such order and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of this title with respect to such commodity.

TERMS—MILK AND ITS PRODUCTS

(5) In the case of milk and its products, orders issued pursuant to this section shall contain one or more of the following terms and conditions, and (except as provided in subsection (7)) no others:

(A) Classifying milk in accordance with the form in which or the purpose for which it is used, and fixing, or providing a method for fixing, minimum prices for each such use classification which all handlers shall pay, and the time when payments shall be made, for milk purchased from producers or associations of producers. Such prices shall be uniform as to all handlers, subject only to adjustments for (1) volume, market, and production differentials customarily applied by the handlers subject to such order, (2) the grade or quality of the milk purchased, and (3) the locations at which delivery of such milk, or any use classification thereof, is made to such handlers.

(B) Providing:

(i) for the payment to all producers and associations of producers delivering milk to the same handler of uniform prices for all milk delivered by them: Provided, That, except in the case of orders covering milk products only, such provision is approved or favored by at least three-fourths of the producers who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, have been engaged in the production for market of milk covered in such order or by producers who, during such representative period, have produced at least three-fourths of the volume of such milk produced for market during such period; the approval required hereunder shall be separate and apart from any other approval or disapproval provided for by this section; or

(ii) for the payment to all producers and associations of producers delivering milk to all handlers of uniform prices for all milk so delivered, irrespective of the uses made of such milk by the individual handler to whom it is delivered;

subject, in either case, only to adjustments for (a) volume, market, and production differentials customarily applied by the handlers subject to such order, (b) the grade or quality of the milk delivered, (c) the locations at which delivery of such milk is made, and (d) a further adjustment, equitably to apportion the total value of the milk purchased by any handler, or by all handlers, among producers and associations of producers, on the basis of their marketings of milk during a representative period of time.

² The word "production" was deleted and the word "marketings" was substituted by section 2 (d) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937.

(C) In order to accomplish the purposes set forth in paragraphs (A) and (B) of this subsection (5), providing a method for making adjustments in payments, as among handlers (including producers who are also handlers), to the end that the total sums paid by each handler shall equal the value of the milk purchased by him at the prices fixed in accordance with paragraph (A) hereof.

(D) Providing that, in the case of all milk purchased by handlers from any producer who did not regularly sell milk during a period of 30 days next preceding the effective date of such order for consumption in the area covered thereby, payments to such producer, for the period beginning with the first regular delivery by such producer and continuing until the end of two full calendar months following the first day of the next succeeding calendar month, shall be made at the price for the lowest use classification specified in such order, subject to the adjustments specified in paragraph (B) of this subsection (5).

(E) Providing (i) except as to producers for whom such services are being rendered by a cooperative marketing association, qualified as provided in paragraph (F) of this subsection (5), for market information to producers and for the verification of weights, sampling, and testing of milk purchased from producers, and for making appropriate deductions therefrom from payments to producers, and (ii) for assurance of, and security for, the payment by handlers for milk purchased.

(B) Except in the case of milk and its products, orders issued under this section shall be limited in their application to the smallest regional production areas or regional marketing areas, or both, as the case may be, which the Secretary finds practicable, consistently with carrying out such declared policy.

TERMINATION OF ORDERS AND MARKETING AGREEMENTS

(16) (A) The Secretary of Agriculture shall, whenever he finds that any order issued under this section, or any provision thereof, obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of this title, terminate or suspend the operation of such order or such provision thereof.

(B) The Secretary shall terminate any marketing agreement entered into under section 8b, or order issued under this section, at the end of the then current marketing period for such commodity, specified in such marketing agreement or order, whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of the producers who, during a representative period determined by the Secretary, have been engaged in the production for market of the commodity specified in such marketing agreement or order, within the production area specified in such marketing agreement or order, or who, during such representative period, have been engaged in the production of such commodity for sale within the marketing area specified in such marketing agreement or order: Provided, That such majority have, during such representative period, produced for market more than 50 per centum of the volume of such commodity produced for market within the production area specified in such marketing agreement or order, or have, during such representative period, produced more than 50 per centum of the volume of such commodity sold in the marketing area specified in such marketing agreement or order, but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before such date (prior to the end of the then current marketing period) as may be specified in such marketing agreement or order.

(18) The Secretary of Agriculture, prior to prescribing any term in any marketing agreement or order, or amendment thereto, relating to milk or its products, if such term is to fix minimum prices to be paid to producers or associations of producers, or prior to modifying the price fixed in any such term, shall ascertain, in accordance with section 2 and section 8e, the prices that will give such commodities a purchasing power equivalent to their purchasing power during the base period. The level of prices which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish in section 2 and section 8e shall, for the purposes of such agreement, order, or amendment, be such level as will reflect the price of feeds, the available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand, for milk or its products in the marketing area to which the contemplated mar- marketing agreement, order, or amendment relates. Whenever the Secretary finds, upon the basis of the evidence adduced at the hearing required by section 8b or 8c, as the case may be, that the prices that will give such commodities a purchasing power equivalent to their purchasing power during the base period as determined pursuant to section 2 and section 8e are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, the available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk and its products in the marketing area to which the contemplated agreement, order, or amendment relates, he shall fix such prices as he finds will reflect such factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest. Thereafter, as the Secretary finds necessary on account of changed circumstances, he shall, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, making adjustments in such prices.⁸

(19) For the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order is approved or favored by producers, as required under the applicable provisions of this title, the Secretary may conduct a referendum among producers. The requirements of approval or favor under any such provision shall be held to be complied with if, of the total number of producers, or the total volume of production, as the case may be, represented in such referendum, the percentage approving or favoring is equal to or in excess of the percentage required under such provision. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as limiting representation by cooperative associations as provided in subsection (12).⁹
